MARTINAIRE

Foreword . . .

THE 1953 MARTINAIRE

Staff presents this edition of the yearbook with the hope that its contents will be a record of the Martin College activities and will be helpful in the future to review the past with fondest recollections. May its pages faithfully record all phases of the college's undertakings and endeavors.

Dedication . . .

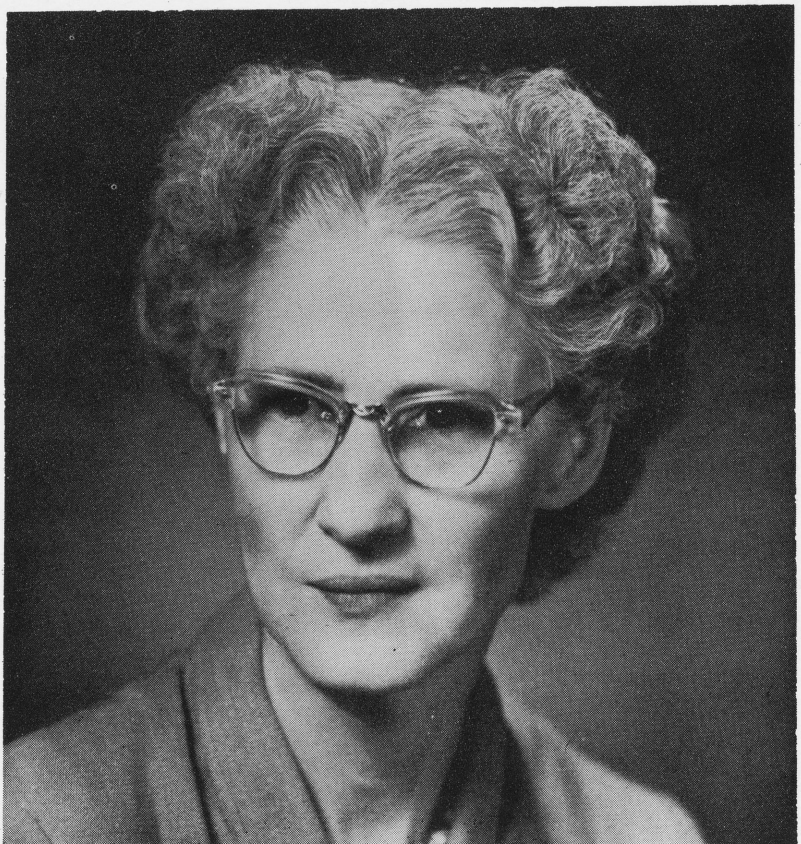

She is truly a person on our campus who wants to help with problems, scholastic or otherwise.

One leaves her English classes with a feeling that he has more than a mere acquaintance with both the textbook material and the drives that make men great. She challenges the best in the class, and is a disciple of Plato, Homer, and Horace concerning form and diction.

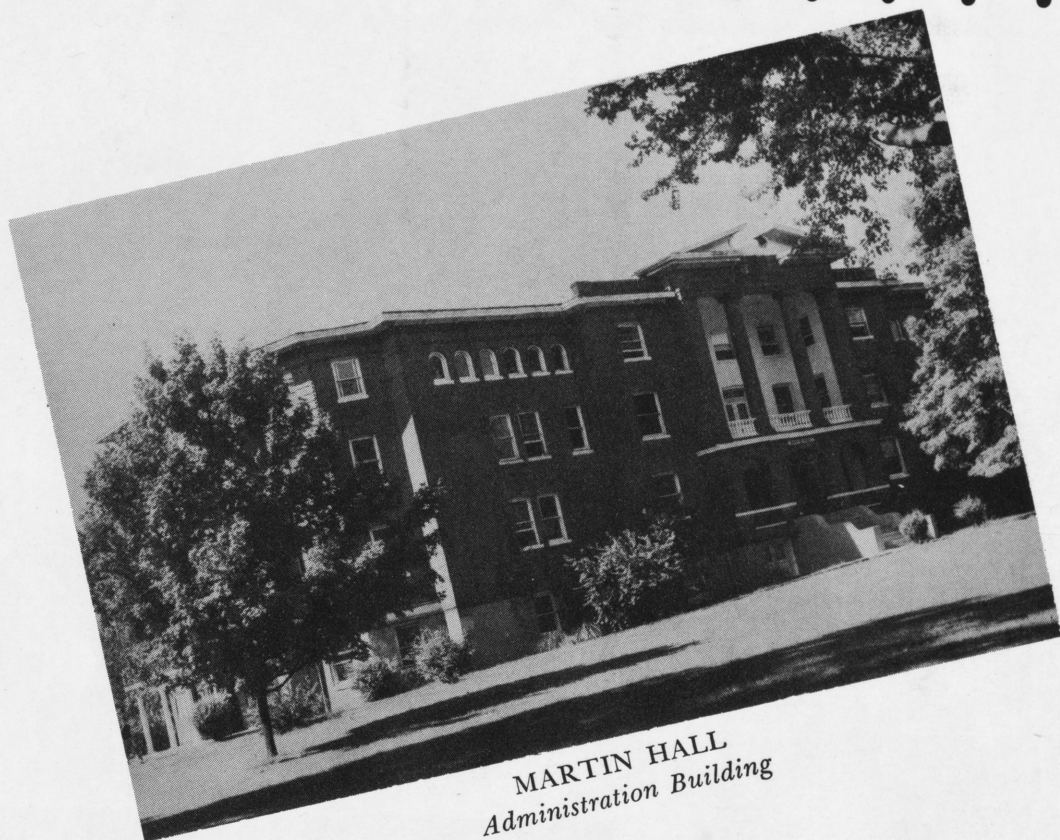

From behind the desk she emerges a tiny, brisk, and hard-working, yet pleasantly humorous woman with the highest ideals and a keen interest in all activities on the campus.

She has shown unfailing co-operation and spirited pushability in her sponsorship of THE MARTINAIRE these past two years.

In appreciation and recognition of her service we dedicate this 1953 MARTINAIRE to Miss Elizabeth Daniel.

Administration

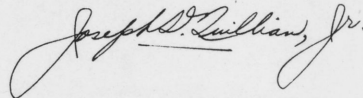

To Students, Faculty and Friends of Martin College:

The 1952-1953 college year leaves us with many enduring memories. The basketball team gave us some inspiring ones as the girls beat every team in the college ranks and as the boys took one hard-fought thriller after another by one and two points. The skill of the teams was excelled only by their spirit and sportsmanship.

We also remember the dog-napping and dramatic recovery of George Martin, our fox terrier mascot; Jerry Rittenberry's good-natured spunk when he lost the end of a finger in a minor but painful accident; the unassuming and generous interest of the students in subscribing funds for an operation for one of their buddies; the pan of water dashed through a Tennessee Hall transom by the girl who didn't believe the housemother was standing outside; the remarkable scholastic record of a graduating war veteran who won his honors against heavy odds; and the profound reverence of those who voluntarily came so regularly to the Vesper Communion services.

The single most important advance of Martin College during the year was admission into the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The planning and working together of students, faculty, staff, trustees, churches and friends made possible this vital progress. We consider this gain as the foundation for building a great Christian college. With enthusiastic unity of purpose, we will continue steadily ahead.

Sincerely,

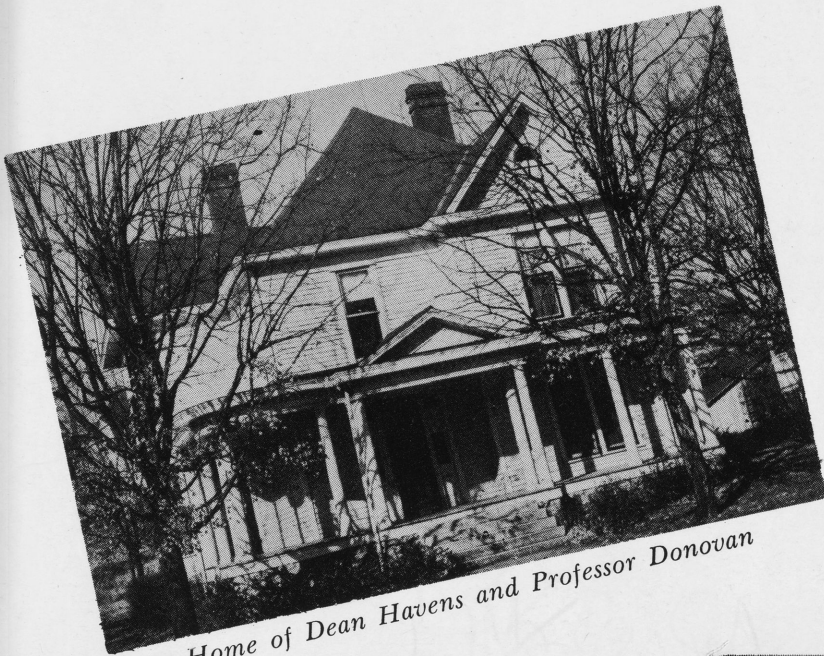

B.A., Piedmont College; B.D., Vanderbilt; Ph.D., Yale

Senior Class

The goals of the Senior Class are to unite the college's student body and faculty into a closer fellowship. As juniors, the class produced a musical review under the direction of the class sponsors with the proceeds donated to buy school furniture. Tentative plans by the seniors are to secure an inter-communication system for their Alma Mater.

DR. R. B. STONE

CHARLES B. HAVENS

The official purpose of Phi Theta Kappa is to promote scholarship, to develop character, and to cultivate fellowship among the students of junior colleges. The three Greek letters, Phi, Theta, and Kappa, stand for wisdom, aspiration, and purity, which are the foundation stones on which this honorary organization is built. The Alpha Omega Chapter, which is the Martin College Chapter, was chartered in 1931.

Student Christian Association

Cabinet

KENNETH WILKERSON President
ROYCE DEBERRY Secretary
MRS. E. C. COLLINS Advisor
DEAN GLENN MINGLEDORFF Advisor

The purposes of the Student Christian Association are to encourage students to the church of their choice, to create friendly relations among students, to aid new students, and to help them grow in their Christian experiences. Each student is a member of the S.C.A., and participation in its activities makes one a part of it. The officers and cabinet members have a large share in directing the religious activities of the college.

Ministerial Association

OFFICERS

KENNETH WILKERSON Chairman
PAUL ALLEN Vice-Chairman
DR. BROOKS M. WAGGONER Faculty Advisor

The membership of the Ministerial Association constitutes those students who are preparing themselves for some full-time Christian vocation. The Ministerial Association's purpose is to afford its members an early acquaintance with the nature of their chosen work so that they may discover their position in relation to that work.

The Current Affairs Club is composed of students who are interested in current political, national, and international affairs. Our club is affiliated with the South Atlantic Regional International Relations Club. Our main project this year was the sponsoring of a political assembly program and a campus-wide mock presidential election. On October 30, campaign speeches were made for both candidates. James Comer and Johnny White spoke for Governor Stevenson, while Fred Booth and Don Bennett spoke for General Eisenhower. The college voted 83% strong. The returns revealed a Stevenson victory of 83-60.

OFFICERS

BOBBY MORGAN	President
JOHN PROCTOR	Vice-President
ANNE GARRETT	Secretary
L. C. TROUTT	Treasurer
BOB TULEY	Business Manager
MRS. E. C. COLLINS	Director
ROBERT G. CARR	Accompanist

The purpose of the chorus is to unite all students interested in vocal music and to provide opportunities for service, music study, and entertainment. It also serves in the field of public relations among Martin College, the Tennessee Conference, and the neighboring communities.

Drama Club

OFFICERS

JOHNNY WHITE	President
MARTHA BRAGG	Vice-President
JEAN JONES	Secretary
OREAN POE	Treasurer
MRS. J. FLOYD GILBREATH	Sponsor

The purpose of the Drama Club is to promote appreciation of and to stimulate interest in drama and the allied arts. This year the club has sponsored three one act plays and one three act play. "Seven Sisters" from the Hungarian by F. Herzeg and adopted by Edith Ellis, was presented in March in celebration of International Theatre month. Other activities of the club include bimonthly meetings and socials.
